

Landsec

Press release

Title Landsec name Jennie Colville as Head of Sustainability
From Landsec
Date 21 May 2021

Landsec is delighted to announce the appointment of Jennie Colville as Head of ESG and Sustainability. In her role, Jennie will lead Landsec's sustainability strategy and its implementation across the company's £10.8bn portfolio.

A 20-year veteran of sustainability, Jennie has helped companies translate environmental, social and governance (ESG) opportunities and challenges into practical actions and business priorities. Jennie comes to Landsec after three years at Capita, where she was the Responsible Business Director. Prior to that, she held numerous roles at both public and private sector companies including RSA Insurance Group, Kent County Council and Linklaters.

In the course of her career, Jennie has supported over 500 small and medium businesses to improve their environmental performance, secured £2.5 million to deliver a grant scheme for businesses in the low carbon sector and implemented a global law firm's first ever ISO 14001 Environmental Management System.

Nick de Mestre, Managing Director, Strategy, Research and Corporate Finance at Landsec, said: "Environmental and social sustainability are vitally important to Landsec and all our stakeholders, and we are committed to shaping a better future by leading our industry in this area. Under Jennie's stewardship, we will continue to build on our market leading ESG efforts ensuring our approach to sustainability continues to underpin our purpose of creating sustainable places, connecting communities and realising potential. We're thrilled to have her on board as we continue to find new ways to expand our impact."

Jennie Colville, Head of ESG and Sustainability, said: "Landsec embraces sustainability and makes a point to build, invest and care for buildings with respect to the changing needs of its communities and our planet. With a clear strategy and commitments in place, Landsec has established itself as an early leader in this area and a force for good in society. I look forward to working with the team to build on its leadership position."

Jennie earned a MSc in Environmental Management from the University of Greenwich and a BSc in Environmental and Geographical Science, Archaeology and Psychology from the University of Cape Town, South Africa.

Landsec is a leader in the industry taking a proactive approach to its social and environmental impact and is committed to creating places that make a lasting positive contribution. Find out more about Landsec's sustainability strategy and commitments here.

Ends

About Landsec

At Landsec, we strive to connect communities, realise potential and deliver sustainable places.

As one of the largest real estate companies in Europe, our £10.8 billion portfolio of well-connected retail, leisure, workspace and residential hubs. From the iconic Piccadilly Lights in the West End and the regeneration of London's Victoria, to the creation of retail destinations at Westgate Oxford and Trinity Leeds, we own and manage some of the most successful and memorable real estate in the UK.

We aim to lead our industry in critical long-term issues – from diversity and community employment, to carbon reduction and climate resilience. We deliver value for our shareholders, great experiences for our customers and positive change for our communities.

Find out more at landsec.com

Please contact:

Press

Tulchan Group

+44 (0)20 7353 4200

landsec@tulchangroup.com

Investors

Ed Thacker

+44 (0)20 7024 5185

edward.thacker@landsec.com